Put the date in the diary. Times to be confirmed.

The Rector Writes

If I had a pound for everyone who tells me, I only work Sundays I would be able to give a significant amount to the fundraising efforts for St Cuthbert's! Being a priest is an amazingly varied role. No two days are the same. I can go from taking a school assembly to visiting someone who cannot get to church. I can spend time sorting out the inevitable paperwork associated with running a church to the joy of a baptism visit or the sadness of a funeral visit.

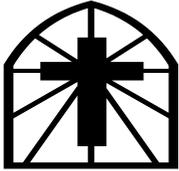

Then there are the unexpected and unplanned encounters with so many amazing and interesting people. All have a story to tell and information to give me about the village and its history. I still feel like I have much to learn, as I prayerfully spend time with you all.

July is a time when many of us think about taking a break. School will break up for the long summer vacation and say goodbye to our longstanding headmaster Mr Scholes. He will be sorely missed. I know plans are already underway to find a new head. That is one of the amazing things about village life, each of us is a temporary custodian of the place and its stories and it is our role to hold them gently and pass them on when we move on. Mr Scholes will pass on a successful well loved and well resourced school to his successor in due course.

I have been reading about St Cuthbert over the last few months. He lived in the seventh century, a time of great upheaval and uncertainty, not that dissimilar to today. After having a vision at around the age of 15, he committed himself wholeheartedly to praying for the world he knew in the north of England and the South of Scotland and to bringing hope to everyone he met both rich and poor. He was not interested in building his own legacy but rather encouraging others to grow in faith. I will share a bit more of his life in the coming months or you can find more by following the new trail in church.

Whatever you are doing over the next few months, make time to pause and notice what is around you and enjoy the rich history of the place you live and the different people who have made this their home, at least for the moment.

God Bless
Susan

WE NEED YOUR SUPPORT

PARISH GIVING SCHEME

Prayer and worship is at the heart of all we do.

It is only with the generosity of our community that we can sustain our wonderful church and keep our clergy.

St Cuthbert's is responsible for funding everything we do as a church. Despite what some people think none of our activities are directly funded by the Diocese or the National Church.

You can use the Parish Giving Scheme to make one off donations by scanning this QR code.

FRIENDS OF ST CUTHBERT'S

You can also support St Cuthbert's by becoming "a friend".

All the funds raised through this scheme are directed to the maintenance and repair of the church building and grounds.

There is a minimum donation of £20 per year to join, but you can then choose how much and how regularly you donate.

For further information please contact info@halsallstcuthbert.co.uk

Thank you for supporting us.

Without you we cannot be the church we aspire to be.

Halsall War Memorial Field and Hall (Charity 521111)

The recreation ground and hall is managed by this charity, independent of the Council, although councillors are also Trustees of the charity.

A contractor has been found to refresh all the lines in the car park. This will involve closing the car park one morning and the date will be published on Facebook.

An extension to the car park is being investigated but it will be difficult to achieve due to the recreation ground being in a conservation area.

Some of the flags on the middle steps leading to the hall are loose. The steps have been cordoned off for safety and repairs are due to take place.

Halsall St Cuthbert's July Report

Admissions

The demand for school places at Halsall continues to be strong. We hope to welcome 27 new children into the reception class.

Our estimated Number on Roll (NOR) in September is 175.

Strawberry Teas

The children performed superbly well at the Strawberry Teas Afternoon and kept everyone entertained. It was lovely to see the individual performances and see all the children showing such amazing confidence and joy with their singing and dancing. Thanks to the PTFA for the funding and the organising the refreshments. These events would not go ahead without your hard work and commitment so it's much, much appreciated.

Summer Carnival : Saturday 6th July.

The theme this year is favourite book characters. The children will be dressing-up as normal, they'll be singing and dancing and it should be another fantastic occasion. Let's hope the weather is kind to us.

School Outing

The children have been having a fabulous time on their school trips recently. Staff have organised visits to Jungle Park in Warrington, Martin Mere, Knowsley Safari Park, Eureka, Farmer Teds and Liverpool Cathedral.

Important Dates

Leavers' Service is on Thursday 18th July 2-00pm

School closes for summer on Friday 19th July 2-00pm

School reopens in the autumn on Wednesday 4th September

Impending Retirement

As most people will probably be aware, I shall be retiring at the end of the summer term. I have been the headteacher at Halsall St Cuthbert's now, for over 24 years and it has been such a massive part of my life. Time has flown so quickly and you can't imagine how much I am going to miss it.

It has been a wonderful privilege to manage such a fabulous school. I've worked with so many amazing and committed members of staff, I've met so many wonderful parents and so many special children, and they have just brightened up each and every day. Many, many thanks for all your support over the years, it's been much appreciated. It's been such a fabulous journey and I'll treasure the memories for many years to come.

I leave the school in a strong financial position. Halsall remains an integral part of both the local community and the church community. It is a very popular school and has an excellent reputation within both West Lancashire within the County. Halsall has excellent grounds, it is extremely well-resourced and it has a body of staff that is second to none. I wish my successor, whoever it may be, all the very best in the years ahead.

Schools Governors Update

Dear All,

On behalf of the Governors, I would like to advise you all, that after 24 years of dedicated service to our lovely school, Mr Scholes has decided to stand down from the end of the school year and enjoy a well-earned retirement.

The Governors are working behind the scenes to start the search for an inspirational head teacher to lead our school going forward.

In the meantime, the school will be led by Miss Hampson as acting head teacher, supported by Mrs Galley as acting deputy head teacher.

I am sure you will all join us in thanking Mr Scholes for his long service and dedication in helping to make the school what it is today. His experience and guidance will be missed, and we wish him a very long and happy retirement.

Kind Regards

Angela Christian-Pye

The Bees and Butterflies Brigade (July 2024)

Thank you to all of you who have been inspired by our meetings to include extra plants for pollinators in your own garden – you are amazing people and your gardens are more important than ever in the fight to save our wild bees. Whilst native wildflowers in the right location are undoubtedly fantastic for bees, we must not forget that our pollinating friends are equally grateful for the food that garden plant varieties afford.

In my garden, certain plants stand out as powerful bee-magnets in the summer months. Sea hollies (Eryngium), Cone flowers (Echinacea), African lilies (Agapanthus) and Beardtongue (Penstemon) all attract pollinators to feast on the nectar whilst providing a border full of colour, too. Purple top vervain (Verbena bonariensis) and Globe thistles (Echinops) will heave with bees and attract other beautiful insects such as butterflies and moths too. All these plants thrive in a sunny, partly-sheltered border on moist but well-drained soil; they are alive with sound and movement on a sunny day and bring me so much pleasure.

Whilst it is fantastic to plant for pollinators in your garden, the way you look after your plants can have a positive impact on their ability to support insects. If a plant is thirsty and stressed by summer heat, it will put its resources into surviving rather than reproducing. This means it will produce less flowers than usual and therefore less pollen and nectar, leaving pollinators hungry. By keeping your pots and borders well-watered through the summer months, you will be helping your plants to provide as much food as possible for our pollinators. Add a dose of water-soluble plant food, too, and you will receive an abundance of colour as a reward!

Dead-heading certain plants is a great way to maximise flowering. By taking off the spent flowers, you can prompt the plant to respond with another flush of blooms. In my garden, July is the time to dead head plants such as perennial salvias and veronica, which are covered with bees in June. If I dead head them now, they re-flower by the end of August and into September, which is a real bonus for me and the bees. I also cut my catmint and hardy geraniums quite hard after they have flowered, removing much of the foliage down to shoots of new growth – with a water and a feed they re-grow fresh foliage and re-flower later in the summer.

Where shrubs are concerned, summer pruning can be useful to shape them and help them cope with periods of drought. It can also help certain shrubs flower prolifically in the following year, however, maximizing the plant's potential to help pollinators. I have a beautiful Mock Orange in my garden (Philadelphus) which I trim back with secateurs every July, after it has flowered. The trimming reduces it in size, keeping it manageable, but I also remove about a third of the main stems right to the ground. I'm rewarded each summer by fresh, strong growth, beautiful scented flowers and my insect friends.

If you'd like to find out more about the maintenance of flowering plants, or you just want to ask about a specific plant you have in your garden, do come along to our next meeting and have a chat with us. Whether you are an experienced gardener or just a beginner, we'd love to meet you. Join us on Saturday 20th July at 10am for a maintenance session at Bridge 25 near The Saracens Head – we'll be learning about the new planting there and what it needs to establish and thrive. In the meantime, enjoy your garden.
